Children's Resources for 0-11 year olds

---

Dear All

Please find below a collection of resources on bereavement. I hope they will be of use in this challenging time.

| Link to document  | Ruth Young, Children and Families Facilitator, Diocese of Birmingham has produced a document to send out to our Parishes about supporting children through loss and bereavement. Children's hospital chaplains and hospice workers have advised on the content.  |
| Link to document  | Debbie Hill, Children's Adviser for Ely Diocese has created a bereavement resources document. She writes, 'I have collated these resources from a range of organisations, not necessarily Christian. My hope is that you can find the right approach for the situation you are faced with; whether its individuals or organisations such as schools. It is by no means exhaustive but I hope it is of help.' |
| Link to document  | Louise Warner, Children and Families Officer from the Diocese of Leicester has produced a document full of creative ways to reflect on people who have died. It also includes links to useful websites and a list of recommended books.  |
| https://www.pinterest.co.uk/margaret_pritch/childrens-books-about-death/   | Margaret Pritchard Houston, Children's Mission Enabler for the Diocese of St Albans has produced a Pinterest board of children's books about death, which may be worth circulating.  |
